The LEADERSHIP Principles

LEADERSHIP is an ongoing and intentional development process. Without being intentional with our development, we would not be able to maximize our leadership potential and add value to others. It is important that we know where we are so that we can step up in our current leadership abilities.

We aim to empower you through renewing and transforming perspectives, mindsets and attitudes, enabling you to reach your potential, becoming a capable and respectable leader!

Through this interactive workshop, discover your current leadership ability and learn how to successfully apply the principles to step up your leadership abilities. With real-life case studies and practical, cogitating hands-on activity, you will learn how to move from a position-driven leader towards a leader who win hearts by being authentic, fruitful and fulfilled!

Growing as a leader requires a combination of intentional growth and leadership experience. ”

– John C. Maxwell
